THE SHUFFLING RENEGADE

February 2011

Club News, Rumors, and Lies.

It is said that if you do not condemn it then you condone it. Last month, there was a tragic event in Tucson, Arizona with the attempted assassination of Congresswoman Giffords and murder of seven civilians. Those of us who believe in the U.S. Constitution denounce assassination and murder. Period. End of sentence. Bad things happen to good people all the time and nothing can be done to stop it. This was the act of a totally insane individual who had planned this for years. There are those politicians who wish to revoke the First Amendment (freedom of speech) and the Second Amendment (gun ownership) claiming safety and security for the people. Our founding fathers had wisdom beyond belief when they created the Constitution. They understood that the American citizens (formerly subjects) must be protected from the government, not an insane individual acting alone.

I have good news and bad news. The good news is that spring is around the corner and rendezvous season is upon us. The bad news is we are now another year older.

Ft. Washita Rendezvous is scheduled for March 30 through April 2. Set up can be done on March 28 and the camp fee is $20 as well as the trader's fee of $100. The shootmaster is Cody Wheeler, 580-239-0817 or codywheeler_2006@yahoo.com and the booshway is Rick Johnson, 214-557-1350 or refusal@yahoo.com.

Beaver Creek Free Trappers are scheduled for March 25 – 27. Fees are $10 camper's fee and the shooters fee is $10 entry plus a $10 blanket prize. Contact Frank Knutz , 580-357-3491 or Ironjaw, 405-933-3181.

Help me out sorting something out. Somewhere something got out of whack and someone the numbers are off. We all need to put one hand against the other real hard, real fast, a bunch of times for David Anderson. That means applause and appreciation. The website is up and running. David is a webmaster by profession and has agreed to make ours work. He has some really good ideas and will keep it up to date. We don't want another disaster like when an out of town good friend showed up a week early for the Turkey Shoot and found it deserted because last year's schedule was still posted on the website. We will be archiving Renegade history as well as current events and links to others of our kind. This is the website:

We look forward to additions, suggestions, or improvements so tell us what you think. As we have been archiving past newsletters and I am amazed where we are now and where we were then. Some of the newsletters were typed (on a typewriter), some were handwritten, some were drawn on a Big Chief Tablet with a crayon, and some reproduced on a thermofax machine. If you remember these, you are old.

Roundball Roundup.

Oreithya is the Greek goddess of cold, gusty mountain winds. She is the wife of Boreas, the wintry north wind, and mother of Chione, goddess of snow. Oreithya must have been having an attack of PMS last Sunday because it was cold and windy. The weatherman predicted (are you smarter than a 5th grader?) sunny and 50 degrees. We had 19 brave souls show up, 16 registered, and 9 shot. Maybe we should have had a live sacrifice but I don't think a Greek goddesses would understand or appreciate an armadillo.

Everybody was in here.

Not out here.

I sure wish I had them damn fuzzy house slippers now. I'll just blow some hot air into my glove.

We had two new visitors, Todd Greenwood and Scott Stillson. They kept saying, "I've never done this sort of thing before, have you?" (Third Rate Romance, Low Rent Rendezvous by the Amazing Rhythm Aces) They must have done this before because they had respectable scores despite the weather. These are really nice fellows and I hope they return so we can corrupt them Renegade style. Tara was out with her new flintlock and did some sighting in. She gave herself a real nice Christmas present with a Traditions rifle.

Shotgun Scatters

April is around the corner and that is when we host the Shotgun Sorree. It's going to be a big one, Elizabeth. It goes without saying (so why say it?) we need member participation. This is MiniMike, the voo doo doll speaking to you from the other side of the paper. Get out and support the club or I will be a curse upon you! Ennie meenie, chilie beanie, the spirit has spoken! Now where did that come from? We really do need your support. We need: Money, prizes, people on the work crews, and people to be there to help run it. Flyers will be going out in the near future. What do you not understand? "Do" or "It".

Paul Harvey's The Rest of the Story

The year was 2000. Aunt Tuni came to the United States to gain asylum claiming that being of a minority it would be unsafe to return home. By 2004 an immigration judge denied her request and issued a deportation order. However, by that time she had become ill, had been hospitalized, was discharged penniless, dropped out of sight, and her visa had expired. She had become an illegal immigrant.

As an illegal immigrant Aunt Tuni spent two years in a homeless shelter, finally ending up in South Boston public housing, subsisting on welfare disability payments. She was now out of sight, out of mind, and under the radar.

Then in 2009 Aunt Tuni was located and interviewed by the Associated Press. She told the reporter she knew she had overstayed her welcome and had originally intended to return home but had become ill and could not afford the trip. She had no remorse for being in America illegally or over staying. She stated, "If I come as an immigrant, you have the obligation to make me a citizen. I didn't take advantage of the system, the system took advantage of me. I didn't ask for the house, they gave it to me. To me America's dream became America's worst nightmare." When asked how she could afford the attorney's fees when applying for asylum she replied, "Almighty God. My help comes from heaven."

And then one day miraculously Aunt Tuni was granted asylum by the same judge that had denied her original request years earlier. No explanation could be found as to why this ruling was made after all this time and anonymity. She now lives legally in free public housing, still subsidizing on welfare and still doesn't work. There is no apology for years of being here illegally, only hostility and contempt for the country that has taken her in.

Aunt Tuni is Zeituni Onyango, half-sister to Barack Husain Obama Sr., father to President Barack Husain Obama. And now you know the rest of the story.

Quote to Remember. "It is by the goodness of God that in our country we have three unspeakably precious things: freedom of speech, freedom of conscience, and the prudence never to practice either of them." Mark Twain, Following the Equator, 1897.

Safety or Sorry.

To Quote Dr. Phil, "Well, how'd that work for you?" Didn't know what was in the recipe, did you? Or maybe didn't know the gun was loaded, or didn't know how to check, or didn't know the safety was off. True family story: The year was about 1961. A friend of Dad's was visiting and they were looking at a little Colt .25 Automatic. The friend was absentmindedly handling the unloaded gun while carrying on a conversation. He racked the slide and while talking and happened to put the muzzle to his left palm and pulled the trigger. Guess what? Fortunately it did not hit a bone and all he needed to recover was a bandage for a week or so. For all I know the bullet is still embedded in the arm of the chair.

Another safety note. Last month I was at the shoot with the Beaver Creek Free Trappers in Oklahoma. They shoot novelty and gongs. It was my turn to break clay pigeons on an ax stuck in a stump. The distance was about 15 yards. I was using my .50 caliber Hawken and the load was 55 grains of FF. Ironjaw was standing behind me and when I fired he hollered real loud and began dancing around like an Indian at a powwow. My ball had ricocheted off the hard stump and hit him in the leg. He bent down and picked up my ball so the worst that happened was a bruise. Even though the ball was mushroomed from hitting the stump had it enough energy left to possibly seriously injure someone. It is absolutely important to keep safety foremost when handling or shooting any firearm. This could have had a tragic instead of a funny outcome. Be careful!

I'm watching now. Don't be nervous. Breath in.
 Breath out. Take your time, you have all day.
 Don't get in a hurry. Squeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeze.
 Just aim for the 10.

Would you look what you done now. Got a 10X in the next target over. What you want to go and do that for Dudley?

 Lord..... grant me patience.....

Heard on a Washington D.C. police ban during the State of the Union address. "One Adam 12, One Adam 12. BR549 in progress at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue. See the taxpayer."

History of Civilization

In the beginning humans existed as nomadic hunter/gatherers. In the summer they lived in the mountains eating red meat and in the winter on the coast eating fish. Two significant events caused the evolution of civilization.: the invention of beer (for the nightly BBQ) and the wheel (transport for the beer to the BBQ). Soon there developed two subgroups: Conservatives and Liberals.

Once beer was discovered grain was required and agriculture began. Glass bottles and aluminum cans had not been invented yet so they stayed close to the breweries thus villages were formed. Some men learned hunting skills and brought the meat to the BBQ. These strong protective men with initiative became known as Conservatives. The weaker girlie-men stayed behind doing fetching, sewing, and hair dressing and became Liberals. Notable achievements of the Liberals are the group hug, the T-ball rule not to keep score so no one would lose, and the wealth redistribution on how to divide the meat at the BBQ.

Over the years Conservatives became symbolized by the largest and most powerful animal on earth; the elephant. Liberals became symbolized by the jackass for obvious reasons. Liberals evolved to preferring raw fish, tofu, bottled water, and imported wine and beer with a lime twist. They became social workers, personal injury lawyers, Hollywood dreamers, union bosses, and politicians. Conservatives became successful businessmen, lumberjacks, firemen, big game hunters, construction workers, and soldiers. They employed and encouraged others who could and would take care of themselves and were productive members of society. Once there was even a group of Liberals posing as Conservatives who formed the band The Village People.

Liberals believed Europeans were more enlightened and did not initially immigrate to America and take risks. Conservatives with ambition migrated and founded the great nation of the United States of America. Once the Wild West was tamed the Liberals infiltrated and began taking over and socializing the industrial might that the Conservatives had created. Thus began the rise and fall of the American nation.

With that, lets go have a beer.

GLOBAL WARMING DOES EXIST!

I heard on the radio the other day the latest study on global warming. The explanation is so simple Ray Charles could see it. I am now convinced of the validity of global warming. It a proven scientific fact that two objects cannot occupy the same space at the same time. The Northeast is experiencing the coldest winter with record snowfall. This is caused by the heating of the polar icecap. The hot air and cold air cannot occupy the same space so the cold air is forced south. This is what is causing the record snowfall on New York. Global warming is real and we must have our government save us from it at all costs.
